

People

Nathaniel Bishop, named interim president, Jefferson College of Health Sciences, Roanoke. Bishop's appointment could last as long as three years while the Carilion Clinic -owned school is in transition in its location and mission. Bishop is a member of the college's board, as well as the boards of Ferrum College and the Duke University Divinity School. (The Roanoke Times)

Frances Frei, named director, Advance Auto Parts Inc., Roanoke. Frei is the UPS Foundation Professor of Service Management at the Harvard Business School. (News release)

William A. Jones, named vice president for institutional advancement, Virginia Intermont College, Bristol. He held the same position at Goshen College in Goshen, Ind. (News release)

Chris Morrill, named city manager, Roanoke, effective March 1. One of 104 applicants for the job, Morrill is an assistant city manager in Savannah, Ga. (The Roanoke Times)

David Nitzel, named vice president for commercial operations excellence, Advance Auto Parts Inc., Roanoke. He was division president of operations for Velocity Express, a same-day delivery service. (News release)

